May 17, 1864.

Follow Citizens of the United States:

In all seasons of exigoncy, it becomes a matiod carefully to accutinize its line of conduct, humbly to approach the Throne of Grace, and meekly to implore for giveness, wisdom, and guidance.

For reasons known only to Him, it has been decreed that this country should be the scene of unparalelled outrage, and this nation the monumental sufferer of the Nineteenth Century. With a heavy heart, but an undiminished confidence in our cause. I approach the performance of a duty rendered imperative by my sense of weakness before almighty, and of justice to the people.

The details for this object will be communicated to the State authorities through the War Department.

I appeal to all loyal citizens to favor, facilitate and aid this effort to maintain the honor, the integrity and the existence of the National Union, and the perpetuity of popular government.

In witness whereof, I have betenine set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington this 17th day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and of the independence of the United States the ergisty eighth.
